Most of the matter contained herein was collected, compiled and printed during my last term of office as Mayor, for the primary purpose of preserving in a convenient form for reference, data that are not easily accessible in the records

At that time there was no definite purpose in view except the collection of statistics, but as several public spirited citizens contributed to the expense of a limited edition of the work, I undertook in 1890, to put it in convenient form for publication. The revision of the Charter then in progress induced a delay, which was prolonged because of my ill health, and in taking up the subject again I decided to make additions of later data, which could not be inserted in the tables already in print.

There is no claim made to completeness or perfection of arrangement, but the matter presented has been carefully compiled, with competent assistance, and is believed to be accurate.

BUFFALO, 1896

PHILIP BECKER.

*The large increase in the real valuation in 1876 is due to the fact that the Assessors for the first time complied with the law as contained in Chap. 176 of the laws of 1851, which says: "All real and personal estate liable to taxation shall be estimated and assessed by the assessors at its full and true value as they would appraise the same in payment of a just debt due from a solvent debtor."

The decrease in valuation during the years 1860, 1861, 1862 and 1863 was due to the general depression prevailing throughout the country at that time.

EARLY HISTORY OF BUFFALO CREEK.

EARLY HISTORY OF BUFFALO CREEK,

Cavalier DE LA SALLE, a French explorer, built a small vessel which he called the "Griffon" and launched her on the 7th of August, 1679, at the foot of Squaw Island. She was of a foreign model, full rigged and well equipped, being provided with a battery of seven small cannon and a few muskets. A flag floated from her mast-head with the device of an eagle, and on her bow was carved a griffon surmounting the arms of Count Frontenac, Governor-General of Canada. With a strong north-east wind she endeavored to pass up the channel into the lake. The rapid current was however too much for the vessel to overcome and a dozen men were landed on the sandy beach and with a tow-line hauled her up the stream. When the vessel reached the lake the men re-embarked and boldly ploughed, without chart or pilot, through the untried waters of Lake Erie.

A group of Seneca Indians watched the movements of the vessel with wonder and admired the strange spectacle.

Baron La Hotan ascended the Niagara River into Lake Erie, in 1687.

He advised the French Government to build a fort at this place, and designated it as "Fort Suppse" on his map of travels.

Colonel Thomas Proctor, United States Commissioner visited Buffalo Creek, to induce some of the Seneca Chiefs to act as peace ambassadors with the hostile Indians residing near Lake Erie. He succeeded through the intervention of the Indian women. The project however was defeated owing to the refusal of Colonel Gordon, the King's Commander at Niagara, to furnish transportation.

Proctor in his report mentions a store kept by Cornelius Winney, who traded with the Indians. The building was located about where Washington street crosses the Ham-burg Canal and was probably the only building thereabout at that time.

La Rochefoucauld Liaucourt, a French nobleman, and escort came to Buffalo Creek with a desire of seeing a large Indian settlement. The Seneca Indian Village was but a short distance from the creek. The road was worse than any he had traveled before that time. He says: "The whole country is filled with miry mud and pestilential swamps," although he had not noticed any Indians with fever, and concluded that they were less subject to it than the white men.

At the Post of Lake Erie he found four or five houses, built about a quarter of a mile from the lake.

He arrived late in the day at the inn, partook of a very scanty supper and was obliged to sleep on the floor in his clothes. There was nothing in the house, neither furniture, rum, candles or milk; after awhile a little milk was obtained from a neighbor; rum and candles had to be brought from across the border. The next day they crossed the Niagara river into Canada.

Isaac Wing, Jr., an English traveler, who came to Fort Erie from Niagara Falls while waiting for a fair wind to embark for the West, made with others an excursion to Buffalo Creek and the Seneca Indians, but the Indians numbering about six hundred, had gone down to Fort Niagara to attend a feast. The excursionists walked about the village and ate a cold lunch taken with them from Canada.

Joseph Landon, a surveyor, passed through the territory known as Buffalo on his way to Ohio with a party to survey the Western Reserve. They crossed at Albany to Schenectady, ascended with a boat the Mohawk River, crossed at the portage to Wood Creek and thence descended to Lake Ontario by water. There were but four buildings on the site of Buffalo, one of which was a double log house on or near Exchange street, east of Washington street and occupied by Martin Middaugh.

The Commissioners of the Holland Land Company offered several lots for sale, ten miles apart, on the East Transit road to Buffalo, at reasonable prices, on long terms and without interest, on condition that the purchaser erect thereon a hotel and manage the same as such. Asa Ransom selected a lot at Clarence Hollow, erected a building and opened a hotel.

The first stranger that arrived with intent of staying, was Harry Ransom, born in 1799, being the first white male child born in Erie County.

The Holland Land Company offered land at $2.75 per acre with 10 per cent. payment down. A man by the name of Christopher bought a farm of 284 acres at Clarence Hollow for that price.

1802.

A white man by the name of Hewitt was murdered by an Indian known as Stiff-armed George. He was tried at Canandaigua, convicted of murder, but pardoned by Governor George Clinton on condition of his leaving the State.

1803.

Peter Vandeventer erected a little log cabin, for a tavern at Newstead, at which the first political meeting and election in western New York were held.

Enos Kellogg, one of the Commissioners, called the meeting to order in front of the tavern and announced Peter Vandeventer and Jotham Bemis, as candidates for Supervisor. The Commissioner ordered the voting to be done in a novel way, namely; he requested the candidates to advance to the middle of the road facing southward, Vandeventer on the right and Jotham Bemis on the left.

"Now," said the Commissioner, "all those in favor of electing P. Vandeventer as Supervisor of the town of Batavia take their places in a line on his right, or towards Buffalo Creek, and all those in favor of Jotham Bemis, take their places in like manner on his left, namely towards Batavia." He counted the voters and there were 74 for P. Vandeventer and 70 for Jotham Bemis. Five voters from Buffalo Creek and four voters from Batavia, missed or failed to vote.

Total number of persons entitled to vote, 153.

Total number of persons voting, 144.

Peter Vandeventer was declared elected. The other officers were chosen by raising hands. At the same meeting a resolution was passed offering a reward of five dollars for a wolf's scalp, half that sum for a whelp and fifty cents for a fox or wildcat.

Captain Pratt arrived in Buffalo driving down Willink avenue with a coach containing his family, and two wagons well filled with furniture etc. The advent was a surprise to the settlers, and the first coach was introduced.

It appears that as early as 1801, Mr. Ellicott came to Buffalo Creek to lay out a lot for a schoolhouse, that the settlers offered to erect. Mr. Ketchum mentions that the house was probably built in 1802 or 1803 by subscription. Mr. Steele however, fixes the time in 1806. But a memorandum in an old account book which is on file in the Historical Society's rooms, places the time at 1807 or 1808. On the 29th day of March 1807, a meeting was held for the purpose of erecting a schoolhouse by subscription. Mr. Samuel Pratt, Joseph Landon and Josiah Gillett were appointed a committee to see that the subscriptions were properly appropriated.

The amount subscribed was payable on the first day of June, or such part thereof as may be needed. The following named persons promised to give the amounts set opposite their names:

Sylvester Maher,	$20.00	Thomas Fourth,	$3.00
Zenas Barker,	10.00	Josiah Gillett,	15 00
Joseph Mills,	7.00	Nathan W. Sever,	10.00
John Johnson,	10.00	Levi Strong,	5 00
Isaac H. Bennett,	3.00	Samuel Pratt,	22.00
William Hull,	10.00	Isabel Adkins,	5.00
Ruth Mann,	5.00	Garrett Freeland,	1 00
Samuel Andrews,	1.00	Bella Sherman,	.87½

On the 13th day of April, Mr. Josiah Gillett is credited with two and one-quarter gallons of whiskey, and it is supposed that that was the day of raising. If judged by an entry made on the 10th day of November 1808, of two thousand shingles furnished by Samuel Pratt for the schoolhouse the building was finished at the close of the year 1808 or commencement of 1809. This schoolhouse shared the fate of other buildings at the burning of Buffalo by the British, December 30th, 1813.

Many years later the United States reimbursed the settlers for their losses caused by the burning of Buffalo. The schoolhouse was entitled to five hundred dollars, but in the meantime the increase in the population caused a division of the district to be made and the new district claimed part of the reimbursement fund. Dr. Chapin also claimed part of the money; his name does not appear on the subscription book, but he was no doubt a liberal donator. The matter was taken into court and after fifteen years of litigation the money was used up in expenses and Dr. Chapin had a bill of costs to pay in addition.

According to a tradition in vogue as to the origin of the name of Buffalo, a party of half famished French travelers came to the Creek, long before white settlements existed, and the Indians palmed off some horse flesh for Buffalo, but as they did not know the difference they called the place thereafter, Buffalo.

The Indian name for the American Bison is not Buffalo, and it seems improbable that the French would give any place an English name.

John Mellish, in 1811, says from his visit to this locality: "Buffalo is handsomely situated at the east end of Lake Erie. The site of the town extends quite to the lake shore but is principally built on an eminence of twenty feet. On the south, along the creek are handsome, rich bottom lots which at present are a little marshy, but will when drained be most valuable appendages to this beautiful place. Buffalo was laid out for a town five years ago, in streets and lots. The lots are from 60 to 100 feet deep and sell at from twenty-five to fifty dollars each. There are outer lots of five to ten acres, worth from ten to twenty-five dollars per acre.

The population at the last census was 365; is now computed at 500, and is rapidly increasing. Houses rent for two dollars per week and upwards; wood one dollar per cord; flour seven dollars per barrel; pork six and beef four dollars per cwt., and porter six dollars per dozen."

Charles Townsend and George Coit came to Buffalo during 1811, as traders, with about twenty tons of various kinds of merchandise, an immense stock at that time. The route taken to reach Buffalo Creek was by boat from Schenectady, on the Mohawk River, thence north across the portage to Wood Creek and by boat to Oswego and Lewiston, thence by team to Schlosser and finally by boat up the Niagara to Buffalo.

Judge Townsend furnished the following to the Historical Society: "In 1811 Buffalo contained less than one hundred dwellings and a population of some four or five hundred. The only public buildings were the old stone jail on Washington street and an unfinished court-house. A small wooden building built and claimed by Dr. Cyrenus Chapin, near the southwest corner of Pearl and Swan streets, put up for a school house, served also as a town hall, a church for all religious denominations and indeed for all public purposes. Three taverns were kept, one by Joseph Landon on Exchange street and occupying a part of the site of the Mansion House; another of more moderate pretensions at the corner of Main and Seneca streets, kept by Ralph Cook, and the third by Gamaliel St. John, near the corner of Main and Court streets.

The only merchants were John Storrs & Co., Grosvenor & Heacock, Eli Hart and Isaac Davis; the first being located on the northwest corner of Washington and Exchange streets, and the others on Main between South Division and Exchange streets.

The commerce of the lake was small. I think at that time there were only four or five small vessels hailing from American, and two or three merchantmen besides two armed vessels hailing from Canadian Posts. The mouth of Buffalo Creek was usually so much obstructed by a sand-bar that even small vessels could but rarely enter, and even canoes were sometimes shut out and footmen walked dry shod across the mouth. Vessels were loaded and unloaded at a wharf near Bird Island at Black Rock."

RED JACKET.

During the winter of 1812, a number of soldiers were stationed at Buffalo Creek. In the spring orders were given Colonel Snelling to proceed East. Red Jacket became friendly with the Colonel and when he learned of his intended departure, called on him, saying: "Brother, I hear you are going to Governor's Island. I hope you will be Governor yourself. I understand that you white people think children a blessing. I hope you will have a thousand, and above all, wherever you go, I hope you may never find whiskey above two shillings a quart."

1813.

During this year the Village of Buffalo was burned by the British and their Indian allies. The only dwelling which is said to have been left standing was the residence of Mrs. St. John, situated about in the rear of the present number 476 Main street, between Court and Mohawk streets.

CORPORATE HISTORY.

In 1772 the Provincial Legislature organized the County of Tryon, which embraced the whole western and middle portion of the Province. In 1784 the State Legislature changed the name to Montgomery County and in 1789 the County of Ontario, embracing the whole of what we now call Western New York was set off from Montgomery County. In March, 1802 Genesee County was separated from Ontario, and on the 11th of March, 1808, Niagara County was formed. The town of Buffalo, (or New Amsterdam, as it was first called) was designated as the County Seat under proviso relating to the erection of public buildings by the Holland Land Company, which then owned all the land now embraced by the City of Buffalo, except a strip one mile wide along the Niagara river, reserved by the State of New York for the purpose of securing a "portage" around Niagara Falls. In 1821 by an act of the Legislature, Niagara County was divided and a portion of it called Erie County.

February 10th, 1810, the township of Buffalo was established and embraced the territory in the City of Buffalo as it existed prior to 1854, together with the present towns of Grand Island, Tonawanda, Amherst, Cheektowaga, and the north part of West Seneca.

April 20th, 1813, the Village of Buffalo was incorporated and Eli Hart, Zenas W. Barker, Ebenezer Walden, Oliver Forward and Cyrenus Chapin appointed trustees. The village being destroyed by the British December 30th, of that year, no further corporate action is recorded until April 5th, 1816, when a new charter was granted. November 11th, 1816, the first tax levy in Buffalo was made for the sum of $1,400, according to an assessment roll for that year.

In 1816, the Trustees of the Village of Buffalo passed an ordinance relative to the possibility of procuring a supply of water by means of a water course of streams or reservoirs. Twenty-five ladders were ordered bought, house owners were required to provide for each building a good leather bucket, also chimneys were ordered to be swept, and in future, be built large enough for sweepers to go through them.

May 6th, 1817, Ebenezer Walden, Jonas Harrison, John G. Camp, Samuel Wilkinson and Elias Ransom were elected Trustees, Jonathan E. Chapin, Clerk, Josiah Trowbridge, Treasurer, Moses Baker, Collector, and Reuben B. Heacock, John Haddock and Caleb Russel, Fire Wardens.

In 1818, Elijah D. Efner was elected Treasurer, to whom his predecessor, who had served two years, turned over the sum of $56.20 with a request that he might be allowed a portion of it in recompense for his services. But the Trustees resolved; "That no compensation be allowed to the late Treasurer, as his duties were represented to have been attended with no unusual trouble, or loss of time."

In May of the same year, an ordinance was passed regulating the weight of bread sold in stores.

On July 26th, 1820, the freeholders and inhabitants adopted a code of nine by-laws as follows: To prevent the keeping of damaged meats, fish, etc. To compel their owners to remove dead animals. To prevent the firing of crackers, etc., and the lighting of bonfires, except the burning of shavings in the streets. To prevent nuisances and obstructions of streets, lanes, alleys and sidewalks. To enforce cleanliness in markets and slaughterhouses, and make them subject to the inspection of the Trustees, and to prevent driving on sidewalks, and driving faster than a trot in the streets.

On the 7th, of May, 1821, $200 was appropriated to build a public market on the west side of Main street opposite the Court House, and it was provided that the rent accruing therefrom should be expended exclusively in making wells and reservoirs. But two days afterwards this act was rescinded, and the Trustees authorized to contract with any individual to build a market, without however taxing the village.

October 1821, permission was given William Evans and W. R. Gwinn to construct the Evans' ship canal at their own expense; the same to be a public highway.

On the 14th, of June, 1820, lot 42, southwest corner of Church and Main streets was deeded to St. Paul's church, and on the 12th, of December of the same year, lot 43, northwest corner of Church and Main streets was deeded to the First Presbyterian Society as places of and for the purpose of public worship.

St. Paul's church still occupies lot 42 while the First Presbyterian Society moved up town to their present beautiful edifice on the Circle.

Lot 43 has since been occupied by the Erie County Savings Bank. The Trustees erected thereon one of the handsomest and most substantial office buildings in Buffalo.

During the Spring of 1822 the village charter was re-enacted with material changes. The Trustees adopted a corporate seal, and gave the first corporate notice of the Harbor of Buffalo. On the 10th of April, at a meeting held at the house of Charles Townsend, the Trustees adopted as a common seal, a stamp making a circular impression of the words "Buffalo Village," with the centre of the circle relieved. The next Board, elected under the new charter, confirmed this act of their predecessors. But in July, 1826 the clerk was directed to procure a seal, two inches in diameter, the device of which was to be a ship or vessel, a section of the canal, a canal boat and horses drawing the same, and around the circle the words at the top "Corporate Seal," and at the bottom "Buffalo," which having been also adopted by the Common Council in 1832, has ever since been the corporate seal.

In April, 1822, an ordinance was passed to prevent the sale of meats anywhere except at the new public market erected on Stadtnitski avenue, (now Church street) near the Episcopal Church under a penalty of two dollars. In May, 1823, the market house was appraised at $306.75, but it does not appear that it ever became Village property.

During this year the Trustees contracted with John T. Lacy for the building of a mud scow at the cost of $534., from which time the Port of Buffalo has been open.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Village of Buffalo, held on the first day of August, 1822, it was resolved that the following be made an ordinance and that the same be published in each of the newspapers printed in said village: "An ordinance to prevent the selling of ardent spirits to Indians and for other purposes. Whoever shall sell intoxicating liquors, either directly or indirectly, shall forfeit the sum of three dollars, except an Indian present a certificate from a physician that the same is needed. Or, if anyone shall sell any spirituous drinks to anyone who is intoxicated or becomes intoxicated within such place, he shall forfeit for the first offense the sum of two dollars, and for every subsequent offense four dollars, provided, that nothing herein contained shall subject any person to such penalty if such person shall use all reasonable means in his or her power to prevent the same."

On the 19th of August, 1822, an ordinance was passed: "To prevent the obstruction of the navigable waters of Buffalo Creek within the limits of the Village."

It was resolved that the following be made an ordinance and published in each of the public newspapers printed in the Village, viz: "An ordinance to suppress the disorderly houses, and houses of ill fame in the Village of Buffalo."

"Resolved, That it be ordained that if any disorderly house or house of ill fame shall hereafter be kept in said Village by any person who has not gained a legal settlement and not being a freeholder therein, complaint being made to the President, and if he is satisfied that the charges are true, he is to call a meeting of the Trustees. A copy of the complaint must be served upon the person occupying said house. If the Trustees or a majority of them are satisfied of the truth of the complaint after a hearing, he shall issue an order to be served by a constable forthwith on such person or persons to remove outside the limits of said Village within three days, and in case of refusal shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars, and if they remove from the village and shall return to reside therein without a written permission from the Trustees, they shall again forfeit twenty-five dollars. But if a person shall give a bond for their good behavior thereafter, it shall be accepted and no further proceedings commenced.

If any freeholder shall keep or allow to be kept within the village any such person, he shall forfeit twenty-five dollars, providing complaint shall be made against them.

At a meeting held on the 12th day of August, 1822, it was resolved to call a meeting of the inhabitants of the village for the 20th day of August, at four o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of considering the propriety of adding to the tax already levied the sum of $150 or thereabouts, for the purpose of enabling the Trustees to complete the mud machine, now building.

One of the papers printed in Buffalo in 1823 published the proud boast that on the 12th of July 29 vessels were moored at the wharves in the harbor.

In June, 1825, Joseph Cleary was "directed to ascertain and establish the true surface of the sidewalks in Main street between Swan and Crow streets," and to place monuments "so that the walks when finished or flagged shall be an inclined plain."

The Board of Inspectors of the election of the Town of Buffalo, in the County of Erie, do certify that the following is a correct statement of the result of a General Election held in said Town on the 5th, 6th and 7th days of November, 1832, when a total vote of 1,349 was given, of which Millard Fillmore received 856 and Jonathan Hoyt 493 for Member of Congress.

ERIE CANAL.

The gates for letting the water from Lake Erie into the canal were opened October 24th, 1825. Governor Clinton and the New York committee arrived in Buffalo on the evening of October 25th. On the morning of the 26th a procession was formed of nearly all the residents of Buffalo and vicinity, and at 9 A. M., the jolly party started for the canal basin,

At 11 A. M. the canal boat Seneca Chief began its trip to salt water. The signal to the East that the boat had started was the firing of a 32-pound cannon, and before the echo had died away another report was heard from the next station, and so on from station to station, the firing was kept up until it had reached Albany, when immediately the return firing was commenced. It took three hours and twenty minutes until the report was received that Albany knew that the boat was on its way east. A fast telegraph for those days.

The Holland Land Company with its office at Batavia had, as early as 1801, the location for the village of New Amsterdam (Buffalo) surveyed and platted out in streets, with odd names; some of them were as follows:

Willink avenue,
Van Staphorst avenue,
Vollenhoven avenue,
Stadttnitski avenue,
Schimmelpennick ave.,
Cazenovia avenue,
Busti avenue,
Crow street,
Tuscarora street,
Cayuga street,
Onondaga street,
Oneida street,

Main street below the Churches.
Main street above the Churches.
Erie street.
Church street.
Niagara street.
Court street.
Terrace.
Exchange street.
Franklin street.
Pearl street.
Washington street.
Ellicott street.

On the 19th of June, 1826, the names of the streets were changed, and their Dutch appellations dropped.

The general village tax for 1826, was $1,270.50 including five per cent. for the collector's pay, and in 1830 the amount had increased to $2,000.

In June, 1826, the village was divided into five road districts for the better protection and improvement of the streets and highways.

On the 27th of July, 1829, Main street was ordered to be flagged and railed at the expense of the owners, commencing at the stone tavern on the Terrace and the north side of Crow (Exchange) street, to Chippewa street on the west side, and on the east side to Eagle street—the flagging to be smooth stone or hard brick—the west side to be sixteen and the east fourteen feet wide—the platforms not to exceed five feet—the curbing on the west side from the stone tavern to the northeast corner of lot number 41, to be stone, 18 inches by 5, and the rest to be of either stone or of oak, 16 inches by 4. This flagging, in May following, was ordered to be extended on the east side to Genesee, and on the west side to Chippewa streets.

In June, 1831, Moses Baker was chosen as "Superintendent of Roads." The streets at that time were mere roads, and until 1825 the sidewalks were undefined and unregulated. The only mention of paving in the minutes of the Trustees, is a resolution of November 4th, 1830, to the effect that, "whenever the owners or occupants adjoining the alley leading from Canal street to Main street shall grade and open it, the village will pay half the expense of paving the same, not exceeding the expense of the part already paved by E. Johnson in proportion to distance."

The City of Buffalo was incorporated by act of the Legislature, passed April 20th, 1832, under which the first election was held May 26th, 1832.

The boundaries of the City, as established by that act were as follows;

Beginning at a point in the west bounds of the State, due west from the southwesterly termination of York street; thence to the northwesterly line of said York street at its southerly termination; thence along the northwesterly bounds of York street to the northwesterly side of the Guide Board road; thence easterly along the westerly bounds of said road to the westerly line of lot number twenty-two, in the eleventh township and eighth range; thence southwesterly along the west bounds of lot number twenty-two and part of lot number sixteen in said township and range to the easterly termination of the north line of Eagle street; thence easterly along a line which would be a continuation of the north line of Eagle street to the Buffalo Creek Reservation; thence southwesterly along the line of said reservation to the south bank of Big Buffalo Creek; thence down the south bank of said creek to the northeasterly corner of a piece of land called the Gore; thence along the northwesterly bounds of said Gore to Lake Erie; thence due west to the State line, and thence northerly to the place of beginning.

At the first election, Isaac S. Smith and Joseph Brown of the First Ward; John G. Camp and Henry Root of the Second; David M. Day and Ira A. Blossom of the Third; Henry White and Major A. Andrews of the Fourth, and Ebenezer Walden and Thomas C. Love of the Fifth, were elected Aldermen.

The Board assembled at the Court House on the 28th of May, and elected Ebenezer Johnson, Mayor. They then appointed Dyre Tillinghast, Clerk, and Henry R. Seymour, Treasurer.

The Aldermen with the Mayor constituted the Common Council.

The Common Council was directed to meet annually on the second Tuesday in March and by ballot to appoint a Mayor, Clerk, Treasurer, Attorney for the City, Street Commissioner, Police Constables, Clerk of the Markets, one or more Collectors, one or more Pound Masters, Porters, Carriers, Cartmen, Packers, Readles, Billmen, Sextons, Common Carriers, Scavengers, Measurers, Surveyors, Weighers, Sealers of Weights and Measures, and Gaugers.

Any person elected to an office who shall refuse or neglect to accept such office should forfeit the sum of ten dollars. The Mayor was given the power of a Justice of the Peace, and also of a County Judge in criminal cases.

Big and Little Buffalo Creeks were declared to be public highways within the bounds of the City, and the Common Council was given authority to take and acquire property for public purposes, such as to open, pave and repair streets, to construct docks, slips, sewers and canals, to levy assessments, to appoint firemen, to authorize the Mayor or any other proper officer to grant licenses to sell wine and liquors, to establish, make and regulate public pumps, wells, cisterns and reservoirs, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water, and to cause a sum not exceeding eight thousand dollars to be raised each year by tax, to defray the expenses of lighting the streets, supporting a night watch, making and repairing roads and bridges, and to defray the contingent and other expenses of the City, and to enact ordinances, by-laws and police regulations.

The Charter was first amended in 1833, which altered the northerly bounds of the City, and made more definite provision for the improvement of the streets. Also authorizing a loan of five thousand dollars and restricted appropriations.

In 1837, the legislature, besides authorizing a loan of thirty thousand dollars, provided for the appointment of a Police Justice and a Superintendent of Schools. In 1838, the Council was directed to establish school districts, and in 1839, a loan of twenty thousand dollars was made to build a workhouse, and also to dredge and improve Buffalo Creek, assessing the expense locally, as in the improvement of a street.

At this time also it was provided that all district schools should be free, including one for colored children.

In 1840, the Act passed the Legislature providing that the Mayors of all cities in the State should be elected and not appointed.

In 1849, the tenure of office of the City's officers was defined and a general tax of twenty-five thousand dollars annually authorized to be raised. In 1850 this was increased to thirty-seven thousand dollars, and a floating debt was funded at 7 per cent. In the year following the lamp district was authorized and the street hydrants established.

In 1852, a general tax of thirty thousand dollars, to meet contingent expenses for the year was imposed, and it was decided to raise by tax, not to exceed sixty thousand dollars a year for future contingencies. The Council was also authorized to lay water pipes and maintain hydrants.

On August 28th, 1852, the following was presented against the City:

"I hereby certify, the persons named below, delegates to the convention to revise and amend the Charter of the City of Buffalo, have attended the sittings of the convention, the number of days set opposite their respective names and are entitled to the compensation, also annexed, therefor:

Chairman.

During the year 1853, the Council was authorized to issue bonds not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars for the purchase of real estate for park and other purposes. Also, to make a loan of thirty-two thousand dollars to reimburse the general fund for the expense of improving Elk Street market grounds.

The boundaries of the City were enlarged during the year, to include the Town of Black Rock and such parts of the "Mile Strip," so called, as is included in that part of "Jones Mile Square," so called, and lot number one hundred and three in said "Mile Strip," as lay in the Town of Tonawanda.

It divided the City into thirteen wards, and provided that two aldermen from each ward should constitute the Common Council.

On September 19th, 1853, the following resolution was offered in the Council:

RESOLVED:—That the ground bounded by Main, Niagara, Pearl and Eagle streets, be and is hereby declared by the Common Council of the City of Buffalo to be unwholesome, by reason of privy vaults in a filthy condition thereon, and it is hereby ordered and determined that the owner or owners of said grounds cause the said privy vaults to be removed and the walls to be filled up, so that the said lot shall not be unwholesome, and in case the same is not done within three days after notice printed in the City paper, to do the same, then the Street Commissioner is hereby directed immediately to cause the same to be done at the expense of the City, on account of the owners, and report the expense thereof to this Council, that the same may be assessed upon the real estate benefitted thereby. Referred to the City Attorney.

PARKS.

The initiatory steps for a Public Park are due to Dennis Bowen, Joseph Warren and William Dorsheimer, who met one evening the early part of the winter of 1868, and discussed the advantages of a Park. They consulted with Olmstead, the Landscape Architect, and on August 25th of the same year a meeting was held at the residence of Mr.

S. S. Jewett to further discuss the problem. Messrs P. P. Pratt, S. S. Jewett, Richard Flach, Joseph Warren and William Dorsheimer were authorized to communicate to the Mayor their action, and to ask his co-operation. William F. Rogers, Mayor at the time, transmitted to the Council their decision with a recommendation thereon.

April 14th, 1869, an Act passed the Legislature authorizing the Common Council to appoint Commissioners for taking land, and for the issuing of $50,000 Bonds for that purpose. Parks were established, and Ex-Mayor Rogers appointed Secretary of the Board of Park Commissioners, which position he held until 1888, when he resigned to assume the duties of manager of the Soldier's Home, at Bath, N. Y.

WATER.

Jubilee Water Works Company was incorporated in 1827, with a Capital of $20,000. In 1832, the Company had laid about sixteen miles of wooden pipes. The water was taken from the Jubilee Springs, located on the west of Delaware avenue, north of Cleveland avenue. The Springs are protected by a little stone house. The Company supplied mostly North Buffalo with water.

The Buffalo City Water Works Company was incorporated in March, 1848, with a capital stock of $200,000. The undertaking was slow for want of sufficient enterprise. In March, 1850, the Common Council of Buffalo passed a resolution deciding to subscribe for $100,000 of the stock, but in June, 1850, the resolution was rescinded. September 17th, 1850, permission was granted to lay pipes, and January 2nd, 1850, water was let into the mains.

In 1868, by Act of the Legislature, the City was vested with the power to purchase the works, and since then the City has been the owner of the water works.

GAS.

The Buffalo Gas Company was organized in May, 1848, and commenced making gas November 7th, 1848.

The Mutual Gas Company was organized in December, 1870.

The Buffalo Oxygen and Hydrogen Gas Company was organized in 1871, but failed to make gas under its process at a reasonable rate and the property was foreclosed. The Citizens Gas Company was organized in December, 1873.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

The Brush Electric Light Company was organized in May 1881, and on July 13th, 1881, thirteen electric lamps were lighted.

The United States Electric Light and Power Company was organized October 17th, 1881.

The Thompson-Houston Electric Light and Power Company was incorporated in June, 1887, and on August 1st, 1892, the three Companies were consolidated under the name of Buffalo General Electric Light Company.

CREMATORY.

The first Incineration was on December 27th, 1888, and since then 148 male and 72 female bodies have been incinerated.

RAIL ROADS.

The first locomotive that turned a wheel in or about Buffalo, was run from Black Rock to Tonawanda on the 26th day of August, 1836. On the 6th day of September the run was made from Buffalo to Tonawanda and on the 5th of November, regular trains were in service to Niagara Falls.

The Buffalo and Attica Railroad was opened for travel January 8th, 1843. In 1852 it consolidated with other lines to Albany and formed what has since been known as the New York Central Railroad.

The Buffalo and New York City Railroad was opened in 1852 and ran in connection with the Erie Railroad, which had its western terminus at Dunkirk, N. Y., and on February 22nd, 1852, the Lake Shore Railroad was opened from Buffalo to Dunkirk.

STREET RAILROADS.

Street Railroads were organized in 1860, and cars were first run on Main street June 11th and on Niagara street June 23rd, 1860, operating with horses.

On July 20th, 1889, a successful trial was made on the Park road to run street-cars with electricity, and from that time horse-cars were gradually changed into electric. November 1894, horse-cars were entirely abandoned.

CEMETERIES.

Captain Johnson, a retired British officer owned a tract of 40 acres of land, lying between Seneca and Washinton streets and the Creek. He laid out a spot a few rods from Washington street near Exchange street, as a burial place, which was the first cemetery in the village.

The first interment therein was the body of an infant and the Captain himself was buried in his own ground in 1807.

The Village burying ground was at Franklin Square, the spot on which is located the present City and County Hall.

Captain Pratt and Dr. Chapin went to Batavia in 1807 to secure from the Holland Land Company, a lot for a burying ground, as the title to the one on Johnsons land was in his name and not in that of the village, and to avoid trouble in after years, which subsequently proved a wise precaution inasmuch as the son of Captain Johnson encumbered the property by a mortgage which was afterwards foreclosed and the lot sold in 1821. It was also deemed too near the centre of the village to be desirable as a cemetery. A verbal contract was obtained from Mr. Ellicott, to use Franklin Square as a burial ground, prior to 1807.

John Cochrane, a traveler, died at Baker's log tavern and was the first buried in this cemetery.

The title was obtained in 1821, and in 1832 the use of the ground for burials discontinued. The last interment was by special permit in 1836 allowing the body of Mrs. Samuel Wilkeson, daughter of Gamaliel St. Johns, to be buried therein. On part of the Cemetery grounds a small frame house was erected and used as a school.

HARBOR.

In April, 1818 the Legislatnre passed an act authorizing a survey to determine the feasibility of constructing a harbor but at the expense of Niagara County. William Peacock made the survey during the summer without charge. The report was favorable, but neither the General Government nor the State would assume the work. But in 1819 the State agreed to loan $13,000 for the construction of the harbor, provided the payment would be secured by bond and mortgage to the State. Oliver Forward, Charles Townsend, George Coit and Samuel Wilkeson gave the required security, and in 1820 the pier was commenced under the superintendency of Judge Wilkeson.

The work progressed notwithstanding many failures and mishaps. Proper machinery was not within their reach, and many ingenious substitutes were resorted to; they found gravel where they expected sand, and when all seemed successfully completed, their rival, Black Rock, nearly succeeded in securing the contract for building the steamer "Superior," which would have located the shipping port at that place. Buffalo, however, gained the contract by giving stringent judgment bonds, signed by nearly all of the responsible citizens conditioned to pay the Steamboat Company one hundred and fifty dollars for every day of detention after the first of May.

The boat was built in Buffalo Creek, and everything appeared favorable for her departure on the day designated. Everyone was happy and elated, but the joy was dampened and extra exertion had to be made to remove a large body of ice that had lodged in the creek and changed the flow of water; quantities of gravel and sand had been swept into the channel, reducing its depth to three feet and a half for fully one hundred yards. By voluntary subscriptions, and the exertion on the part of the citizens the harbor was reopened in time for the Superior's departure. She floated with ease through the channel into Lake Erie. The bonds were cancelled and all was joy.

From this time on Lake Traffic may be said to have been established.

SPECULATIONS.

Up to August, 1836, the speculations in real estate were carried on upon a large scale. The great speculator, hotel-keeper, banker, merchant and contractor, Rathbun, carried on his affairs with a high hand. In January of that year he took a contract to build seventeen stores on the east side of Main street north of Perry, called the "Seventeen Stores," and so known for many years. The buildings with little change can be seen to-day, and are old landmarks. He agreed to erect them in ninety days, and on the date agreed upon, delivered the keys to their respective owners. During 1835-6 a great many buildings were erected; it is stated the improvements in buildings amounted to $2,830,000.

In August 1836, Rathbun was arrested for forgery and in March 1837, tried, found guilty and sentenced to five years in State Prison. He served his time, and after his liberation, entered into hotel business in the City of New York.

Lewis F. Allen, who arrived in Buffalo about 1827, many times remarked that there was not one rod of pavement in Buffalo at that time, and that in 1836, fifty-two miles had been graded and a system of sewerage inaugurated.

GREAT FLOOD.

October 18th 1844, a destructive gale struck Buffalo, and caused the greatest inundation known in its history. After the waters receded, wrecks of several vessels were found on Main street below Seneca street and along Exchange street. One small vessel was driven completely over the breakwater. Many lives were lost and a large amount of property destroyed.

COURT HOUSE.

Buffalo's first Court House was a frame building erected during 1806 or 1808 and located in the centre of the square now occupied by the Library association.

A stone jail was located on the easterly side of Washington street between Eagle and Clinton streets. At the burning of Buffalo, December 30th 1813, the Court House was destroyed, but the jail, although slightly damaged was saved.

In 1816 a new Court House was ordered built, and the Legislature passed an Act authorizing the Supervisors of Niagara County to raise $4,000 for that purpose. The Supervisors, however, declined to act as the people were too poor to stand the tax. On April 17th 1816 the Legislature passed another Act offering to loan the County $5,000 for the erection of the much needed Court House, and in 1817 a brick building, two stories high was completed, and used for that purpose, until 1876. In 1850 an addition to the building on the north-west corner of Clinton and Washington streets was erected for the use of the County and known as the New Court House. In 1876 the present City and County Hall was opened for general use.

The old jail was abandoned in 1833 or 1834, after a new one had been completed in the rear of the Court House. In 1877 the present jail on Delaware avenue, opposite the City and County Hall was opened for occupation.

EARLY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

On the 7th of March 1817, William Murray, Stephen K. Grosvenor, Jonathan E. Chapin, Daniel Bristol, Gorham

Chapin, John Forbes, John B. Hicks, Horatio L. Forbes, Joseph Lawton, Jonathan R. Brown, Azariah Fuller, Jr., Sylvanius Marvin, Abraham Larzelere, Barent J. Staats, Frederick A. Sprague, Sylvester Matthews, William B. Goodrich, Nathan B. Goodrich, William Dorringer, and Welcome C. Wood, organized the first fire company.

For further protection the Trustees of the Village passed rather an arbitrary resolution, appointing Vincent Grant, Gilman Folsom and Amos Calender, whose duty it was to protect property from plunder whenever a fire might occur.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held June 8th 1822 the following was received:

"The undersigned, Fire Wardens of the Village of Buffalo, have made search for the property belonging to the Fire Department and find the following: 9 axes in bad order, 1 axe without helve, 7 ladders, 3 fire-hooks at ladder houses, and 1 fire-hook at R. M. Pomeroy's. The articles which have not been found are, 2 axes, 1 ladder and a rope."

GEORGE COIT,
ERASTUS GILBERT.

The Board then resolved that the Fire Wardens of the Village be requested by one or more of said Trustees to put the articles mentioned in the above report in a situation to preserve them from injury by weather or otherwise, and to put the axes therein mentioned in an order fit for use.

Adjourned until 5 o'clock A. M., of the 10 inst. at the same place.

G. CHAPIN, Clerk.

On the 2d day of December 1822, an ordinance was passed as to the duty of the Fire Wardens, as follows:

As often as once in each month they were to inspect the fire-hooks, ladders and other utensils used for guarding against accident by fire, and to see that the same are deposited in some safe and convenient place. In examining places, if the Fire Wardens shall be of the opinion, that any alteration or repairs, either in chimney, fire-places, stoves or stove pipe are needed, or out of repair for the security of such house, they shall order the repairs to be made forthwith. If not done within six days the party shall forfeit a fine of five dollars. They shall also examine the places where ashes are kept.

All owners of structures shall provide themselves with one good leather fire-bucket for each and every house; also one additional fire-bucket for every house that has more than two fire-places or stoves, and one in addition for every house containing four fire-places or stoves, and whoever shall neglect, shall forfeit two dollars, and the further sum of one dollar for each month thereafter, until said requisition shall be complied with.

Mr. S. Ball, published a pamphlet in 1825 wherein he states that the "Fire Department is well organized. The Village is adequately supplied with water by public and private wells, and reservoirs have been made in the upper part of the Village to be resorted to in case of fire. The streets are now lighted at night. The Corporation has recently set off a lamp district, and it is hoped that a successful trial will result in a proper general system."

In 1831 a tax of $3,000 was imposed for the "exclusive" purpose of constructing wells and reservoir, and the purchase of fire-engines, etc., and in September, a contract was made with the Jubilee Water Works Company for a term of seven years, by which the Trustees were to build during 1831, four cisterns to contain about ten thousand gallons each, to be filled by the company at the rate of ten dollars each per annum. The second year the company were to be paid at the same rate for filling six cisterns, or as many more as the Trustees might construct.

In the same year four cisterns or reservoirs were ordered to be constructed, one each at the corner of Seneca, Swan, Eagle and Court streets and Main street, with a capacity of about 10,000 gallons.

Limited reservoirs were built from time to time. In the fall of 1831 two new fire-engines were procured and added to the appliances for extinguishing fire.

In 1837 a fire-bell was placed on the Terrace Market.

In 1852 the fire department became demoralized and all companies except Taylor Hose 1, Eagle Hose 2, and Engine 11, disbanded, leaving their apparatus on the Terrace and tendered their resignations to the Council which were accepted at once.

The merchants of the city and large property owners together with some of their employees, enrolled themselves as firemen, and in less than forty-eight hours the disbanded companies were replaced by new men.

Fire alarm boxes were first introduced in Buffalo in 1865.

In 1854 the Common Council directed the Engineer to have the bell rung near the Court House for all alarms of fire. Subsequently watchmen were appointed for the bell tower.

In 1866 the bell tower was removed to the corner of Franklin and Church streets where it remained until the completion of the City and County Hall in 1876, when a new tower was erected on the Court street market grounds, now the site of Fire headquarters, where it remained and was used to sound the alarm and indicate the location of fires, until 1882.

The last time this bell was heard from the tower was the night of the death of President Garfield, and it was soon after taken down, sold, and the sounding of alarms discontinued.
